FOUNDER / ISRAELITE GIRL

Israelite Girl is a brand that includes a podcast, clothing, and books aimed at edifying the women of the twelve tribes of Yisrael. Oftentimes, these women are faced with challenges in the media, workforce, and daily life where no real solution is identified, or even offered. This brand provides a space for these women to learn how to navigate the challenges of being set apart, receive insight and advice on how to move confidently as a peculiar person, and steps to take to walk in their true purpose.

EDUCATION

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE, INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS

UNC Greensboro / 2020

During my time at UNCG, I was able to hold several leadership positions in various organizations where my leadership skills, written skills, oral skills, and public speaking skills were strengthened. Additionally, the coursework I completed at UNCG for my Bachelor of Science in International Business, as well as my minor in Retail and Consumer Studies, has allowed me to gain the necessary tools and knowledge to successfully implement in any role I am tasked with.
